Kansas City Stock Yards, Nov. 24, 1913. Cattlemen were disappointed with the action of the cattle market in declining 25 to 35 cents a head week. A month or two ago expectation of better prices for fed cattle had a legitimate basis, but few dealers now look for improvement before the New Year. Commission men are advising customers who have cattle on feed to hold them, even if the board bill is expensive, particularly as weather conditions are so favorable for cattle on feed. Many feeders, however, are possessed of a desire to get rid of cattle, that cannot be overcome, in some cases even where they have the corn on hand to carry the feeding operations to the bitter end. The outlook is better today, as receipts are lighter at all markets. Range cattle are less numerous here today, and the supply of 16000 head is 6000 less than was received last Monday. Even at markets east, where liquidation has been running wild, the brakes have been applied successfully today. Prices here are steady to 10 higher, beef grades getting the advance, stockers and feeders representing the steady part of it.

NOTICE TO TAX PAYERS.

Roswell, N. M.
Nov. 10th, 1913
Hon. G. A. Davisson,
Treasurer Chaves County,
Roswell, N. M.
Dear Sir:—

Owing to the fact that I have been enjoined in several suits by tax payers of Chaves county, N. M., from extending the raises on the different properties in this county, made by the Board of Equalization at Santa Fe, N. M., it will be impossible for me to deliver the tax rolls for 1913 to you by the first of December 1913.

As soon as this matter is settled in courts I will deliver the rolls to you at the earliest possible moment.

Yours very truly
Guy H. Herbert,
Assessor Chaves County, N. M.
As soon as I receive rolls, I will mail statements.
G. A. Davisson
Treasurer and Collector,
Chaves County, N. M.
Adv.

A subscriber who comes in these days and pays the paper, is blessed, and in the kingdom to come he will be given a place a little higher than angels. His name will be written at the top of the column next to the reading matter and nothing in the house will be to good for him. He will get comps to all the harp recitals and have a reserve seat beside the editors, while all the delinquent subscribers will have to carry water for the performers and sit up in the gallery.

It seems a trifle early to hang out the sign "shop early" but the early shopper gets the most satisfactory results as a rule. The time between now and Christmas is none too early to permit the prudent ones to lay in giving the gift subject some attention. Order a magazine through the Kenna Record for your friend.

WORDS THAT REALLY SPEAK

Many Expressions in the Language That Seem to Convey Instantaneous Meaning.

Bang—"a sudden noise like that from a gun" is the definition given by the dictionary. But the explanation is befogging and futile, for a "bang" is—well, what better describes it than the simple word itself?

So many of our most expressive words seem similarly to have sprung from a desire to form with the lips a sound mimicking the thing described. Why waste words on a definition of the word "splash," for example? You hear all the abrupt, restless heaving of the waters in that one word.

And does even a baby need to be told what "buzz" means when a blue-bottle is leading a forlorn hope against the pantry window?

"Tinkle," "whistle," "whine," "gurgle," "cackle," "icy"—these are only a few of our other eloquently descriptive words.

It is also extremely interesting to note the sharp distinction drawn between the words of opposite meaning so as to emphasize their difference in sound—thus, "brisk, lazy" (or "aluglish"); "hot, icy;" "down, up;" "jolly, miserable," and so on.

Women Multiply Their Trouble.

The popularity of bridge has swept all records so far this season. Any prominent society dame gets an average of, say, one invitation per afternoon. This she could manage beautifully were the invitations for successive dates. But suppose they bunch themselves so that she gets a half dozen for the same afternoon? Society, through necessity, has evolved a novel plan to meet this. It is the substitute. By the operation of this plan, the much-rushed society woman is enabled to enjoy her afternoon of bridge at the house she chooses, secure in the knowledge that she is being represented by her proxies in five other homes. Bridge for bridge's sake has resulted, for the invasion of the proxy has done away with the social aspect to a marked degree. But the proxy player has come to stay, as she is a necessity in the strenuous life of the social swim.

Tragedy in Women's Hats.

There is a tragedy in every woman's hat. It seems almost as cruel to pay girls who make the dainty flowers in France a pittance as to kill the birds of brilliant plumage in Brazil. Thirty cents a day, 20 and 15, with an occasional 75 for rare skill in making roses, deducting for loss of time and slack work, tells the story of wretchedness and woe. Summed up the average is not far from $60 a year on which to support existence. American lovers of French millinery will be amazed at the wages paid young women in France gifted with deft fingers and rare taste, especially when they take the prices charged for Parisian hats into consideration.

Sickness Caused by Wireless.

Wireless operators, particularly on shipboard, are subject to an anemic condition that manifests itself in pallor, loss of appetite and headaches. Blood tests show a diminished number of red corpuscles.

It has been customary to charge this to the poor quarters many of the wireless operators occupy. But it now seems that the presence of too much ozone in the confined air and the presence of electric currents of high frequency exercise a bad effect that as yet is poorly defined.

The same condition has been observed among the electricians at great power stations like that at Niagara.

He Wanted Better Odds.

The first time Bill, the farm hand, ever complained of feeling sick his boss sent him to town with the address of a doctor he knew. Bill came back next day and reported:

"Well, I took my medicine, but not from that doctor you sent me to—no, sirree!"

"Why not? Couldn't you find him?"
"Oh, I found his place, all right, with his name on a brass plate on the door. But underneath the name it said 'to 1.' I wa'n't goin' to take no such risks as that. There was another doctor next door, and his sign read 'to 5.' The odds was so much better that I went to him."

Prepared for Emergency.

"What makes you keep giving me fish for dinner day after day?" he inquired. "Are you particularly fond of it?"
"No," she replied, "I was wholly unselfish. I read a lovely recipe about how to remove a fish bone when it sticks in your throat, and I wanted to try it."
